Chicago's Best Loop

The West Loop continues to be one of Chicago's most rapidly developing and desirable trade areas filled with award-winning restaurants, boutique hotels, luxury apartment buildings, and bespoke office buildings for Fortune 500 companies like Google, McDonald's and Dyson. Despite all of the change in the area, growth in the former meat packing district is not slowing down, with dozens of retail, residential, and hospitality developments currently under construction and in development.

907-909 W. Randolph Street is in the center of the action, just west of the Randolph & Peoria intersection along Chicago's Restaurant Row. The area is home numerous chef-driven high profile restaurants including Nobu Chicago located across the street in the Nobu Hotel and 2021 Bib Gourmand winners Girl & Goat and La Josie.

LOCATION HIGHLIGHTS

Steps from 907 W. Randolph

Fulton Street — Home to Google's 357,000 SF office at 1K Fulton (top-center picture), award-winning cocktail bar The Aviary, and dining hot spots including Swift & Sons, Next, Duck Duck Goat, The Publican, Kuma's Corner, Rose Mary, and Michelin starred Roister.

4 blocks from 907 W. Randolph

McDonald's Global Headquarters — The 490,000 SF McDonald's global headquarters located at 1035 W. Randolph Street opened in June 2018. The LEED certified building houses approximately 2,000 employees, the flagship Hamburger University training facility, and a one-of-a-kind McDonald's Global Menu restaurant on the ground floor.

3 blocks from 907 W. Randolph

Smyth & The Loyalist — two distinct and exciting restaurants from husband-and-wife chefs John Shields and Karen Urie Shields (pictured left). Smyth won restaurant of the year at the 2020 Jean Banchet Awards and has received two Michelin stars. The Loyalist menu is touted for having one of the best burgers in Chicago.

4 minutes from 907 W. Randolph
